WEDNESDAY, DEC. 11, 1901.

Geo. Chandler has vetoed the dispensary bill passed a few days ago by the Georgia legislature.

The Georgia Legislature has passed a resolution calling upon the national government to appropriate to the Southern States for educational purposes the $105,000,000 which is in the national treasury accrued from the cotton claims fund and the sale of abandoned lands.

A bill to reduce the South's representation in Congress has been introduced in that body. President McKinley killed the scheme in the last session by announcing that he would not sign the bill. President Roosevelt has said that he will follow the policy of the McKinley administration.

In the latest figures of the census it appears that there are in this country 1,800,000 more men than women. In Europe the difference is the other way. It would seem, therefore, that the disposition in international marriages should be modified. Instead of Europeans seeking American brides, let them seek for American husbands.

The Southern Railway's fast train, which has been operated each winter between New York and Florida, will hereafter be known as the Southern's Palm Limited and the initial trip will be made early in January. Its equipment will consist of luxurious observation, club, dining and compartment sleeping cars, and it will be in every respect the most magnificent train ever operated in the South.

The statistician of the department of agriculture reports 9,674,000 bales as the probable cotton production of the United States in 1901-1902. The area picked, or to be picked, is estimated at 26,802,239 acres, a reduction of 730,216 acres, or 2.6 percent of the acreage planted. The total production of lint cotton is estimated at 4,629,954,000 pounds, an average of 169 pounds per acre, picked or to be picked.

James Farrell, of Barboursville, West Virginia, who recently celebrated the one hundred and fifth anniversary of his birth, served in the war of 1812 and later was in Mexico, under Jefferson Davis. When the war between the States broke out he enlisted, although no longer a young man, and saw four years of service. He was probably the oldest veteran to offer his services to the government when the Spanish war broke out.

In Chicago any boy over 10 years old who is spanked by a teacher or parent has a remedy at law in the form of an injunction. In a decision a few days ago Judge Tuthill said boys over 10 years should not be spanked. "It does not do a boy any good after that," said the Court, "and, I fear, does him much harm." These remarks did not escape the notice of some thousands of small boys. They bought newspapers, and with the words of the Court heavily underscored, gave the papers to teachers and parents.

Free trade would increase our export trade with Cuba, which is a natural market for us, but which has never been the customer it should be, and which it will become under a free trade policy. But for the Senate's inexcusable action Cuba would now be United States territory. Some day it will be, as Porto Rico is now. In the meantime there should be free trade with Cuba as well as with all of our island possessions. The logic of the situation demands this.

It is to be hoped that the General Assembly, at its next session, will redistrict the State, and do away with the ill-formed and ill-advised districts as they stand at present. The rights of the franchise are now so secure that there is no longer any necessity for keeping up the present lines. When the State was redistricted before, the cry was made that it was necessary because it was the only way to retain white Representatives. This bugaboo no longer exists, and there can be no good reason to continue the present arrangement.

A hundred things happen every week that the newspaper man never sees. He does the best he can, keeps his eyes and ears open, but he is only a human being and neither omniscient nor omnipresent. You often wonder why this or that was not published, and maybe you say newspapers have their favorites. A local newspaper does its best to give all the news and will gladly publish any item of general interest. But before you censure be certain that you have done your part. Either send the news to the office or invite a reporter to come where the news is.

The Anderson Lynching.

Lynching is not to be tolerated at a great distance from the critic. It is very materially different when the ground for the lynching is at your door and among your neighbors, or perchance nearer still. In Anderson a negro ex-convict passing a country house and finding only a young married woman in charge, demanded something to eat. Being given baked potatoes, the only cooked food in the house, he cursed her and then as she fled deliberately shot her. Whereupon neighbors hunted him down and took his life. Now if the death penalty is sound this fellow deserved it and deserved it quick. The objection to lynching is in the possibility of a mistake, in the facility of the operation. In this case it appears that the identity of the assailant was well ascertained. The Anderson people made no mistake. If the incident had happened up in Maine we might criticize it. But the circumstances make the monstrous difference.—Laurens Advertiser.

In Memoriam

The bright and sweet little Vermelle Burns departed this life just at the close of day on Dec. 3rd. The dear little curly head we miss, but oh! what a comforting peace that Jesus hath said in His arms He will keep until we all meet at His feet. AUNTIE.

The World's Unselfish Time!

From Thanksgiving dinner until the Christmas stockings are filled the world is at its best—is unselfish. What to do to make somebody else happy—that is the question.

And so we push every-day Goods considerably back and stand up the gift things where they can answer the heart's question.

The early shopper fares best—because he or she has most room and least distraction from the throng. A Store-ful of Christmas shoppers is a Store-ful of good nature, but one is apt to forget in even pleasant hurly-burly. Then, too, the very choicest things do not come in big lots, but by ones and twos—and who misses the early chance misses every chance of getting some fine article.

But here are some things that are worthy of special mention. It is not often that men can buy their Clothing at an insignificant price, but we are selling out the entire big Clothing Department and New York Cost is the order here. We ask all men to come see the remarkable bargains we are offering, and we know their purchase is certain.

Ladies' Tailor-made Suits!

The low prices we offered last week were irresistible, and many of the choice Suits were sold quickly. But this week adds more to the stock and the selection is even better. The balance of our Ladies' Tailored Suits must be sold within the next two weeks.

Grand Suit Bargains await you. Come and see.
